ST. MONICA'S CHOICE OVER MONTGOMERY

Coach Jim Fohey sends his Bishop Montgomery varsity against heavily favored St. Monica's tomorrow night in a Camino Real League game at Montgomery Field at 8 p.m.

Fohey's Knights, with a 1-2 record, are 18 point underdogs. Fohey graduated from St. Monica's in 1954, "And I'm really looking forward to this one," he said.

The single-winged Knights have planned a few surprises for their invaders, who last week drubbed St. Bernard's 56-night when the two schools collide at Mira Costa Stadium. Game time is 8 p.m.

South, with four straight wins, is a seven point favorite to snap Aviation's string at three in a row as the league's most potent offense runs head on into the league's toughest defense.

South's Spartans have rolled up 108 points in four games, while the Falcons have limited four opponents to just 19 points.

The only league loss for Aviation was to unbeaten El Segundo, 12-0, in the opener.

South's ball carrying trio of wingback Joe Austin, fullback Bob Wehrhan, and tailback Bill Hargrove — all double threats — are expected to carry the team past the Falcons for the second straight year.

South clobbered Aviation 50-0 last season. Both schools were built at the same time, when both featured only freshmen and sophomores. This is the first season for seniors in both schools as the duo competed in the defunct Crescent League for two seasons.

Off comparative scores, South boasts a heavy advantage.

The Spartans stopped Torrance 27-14, while Aviation blanked the Tartars 6-0. Both also own wins over Lennox and Culver City.

Aviation runs out of the T, with halfback Dennis Hearn, the team's chief offensive threat. Hearn has scored winning touchdowns in Aviation's last two games.

South's Joe Austin, a junior, leads the league in individual scoring with 45 points. He tallied 19 last week against Beverly Hills, duplicating an earlier 19 point effort against Culver City.

South needs a win to keep pace with El Segundo, which also has a 4-0 league record. The Spartans and 'Gundo meet next week.

Should Aviation win, the possibility of a three way tie for the championship would exist.

6 after Montgomery scored a 7-0 win over the same team.

St. Monica's has a line averaging around 200 pounds, and a charging fullback in Bill Bowen, "who should make all-league," Fohey said.

Mike Millek has been lost to Montgomery for the rest of the season. He is out with a broken nose and recently had it operated on.

St. Monica's is coached by George Malinkovich, who was an All-American at Notre Dame under Knute Rockne.

Camino's Williams Third in Scoring

Santa Monica City College halfback George Hughley continues to lead the Metropolitan Conference individual scoring race with 48 points on eight touchdowns.

Six points behind in third place is El Camino College's sophomore wingback, Gene Williams, with 42 points on six TDs and three two-point conversions.

Camino's Glen Kezar, a sophomore fullback, ranks sixth with five TDs, one PAT, and one two-point conversion for 33 points in the team's seven games.

North Hosts Micohi In New Grid Stadium

North High's Saxons have an opportunity to use Mira Costa as a stepladder tomorrow night to climb out of a three team tie for fifth place in the Bay League standings when the duo collide at newly constructed Saxon Stadium at 8 p.m. consisting of all senior and all junior players.

"If the seniors can't move the ball, we'll get the juniors in there," Shoup said as he builds for next year.

Mira Costa is a single-wing club, and has one win to its credit this season, a 6-0 shut-out over Leuzinger. North defeated Leuzinger 20-14.

North will be seeing its second week of action in its new stadium, which is not completely finished.

Dressing rooms will not be available, but the press box, public address system, scoreboard, and concession stands will be of use.

The field's lights are probably the best in the league, with the six light standards about 50 per cent brighter than those at Tartar Stadium.

North High B's After Seventh Win on Friday

Torrance's three unbeaten Bee football aggregations put their records on the line in Bay League and Pioneer League games today and tomorrow as the 1959 season nears its end.

North High, leading the Bay League with a 5-0 record, and sporting a perfect 6-0 season mark, plays at Mira Costa Friday afternoon against a team fresh off a 34-0 triumph over Inglewood.

North High's high scoring gridders have rolled up 140 points while yielding only 36 in league play.

Micohi has a 3-2 record. Other games in the Bay League include Redondo at Hawthorne, Inglewood at Santa Monica, and Leuzinger at Morningside.

In the Pioneer League race, unbeaten Torrance and South go after their fourth wins against El Segundo and Aviation. Both teams are at home this afternoon, with game times set for 3 p.m.

The Torrance and Spartan teams sport identical three win, one tie, and no loss records. They played to a 6-6 tie in their meeting three weeks ago.

In the Pioneer League game, Culver City plays at Lennox.

MOTORCYCLE FINALE SET FOR ASCOT

The 1959 Southern California motorcycle racing season concludes Friday evening as the West's leading jockeys vie in the big Seasonal Championship meet at Ascot Stadium.

First post is 8:30, with time trials at 7. Managing Director J. C. Agajanian looks for a king-sized turnout of more than 5000 people for the finale.

The event has drawn the finest field of the year, excluding only those which performed in the National Championship event held at Ascot in July.

On hand for the windup of the biggest cycle season in Southland annals will be such standouts as Troy Lee, Sammy Tanner, Dick Dorresteyn, Al Gunter, Johnny Muckenthaler, Johnny Gibson and Dick Hammer.

In a lineup such as the above-listed it's difficult to tab a winner. However, the most successful riders this year at Ascot have been Tanner, Lee and Dorresteyn.

On the other hand, the hottest jockey at the moment is smiling Al Gunter, winner of the last two main events at the 182nd and Vermont Avenue plant.

The riders will roll 20 laps in the big Seasonal Championship slip test.

MONTGOMERY BEES EYE GRID TITLE

Bishop Montgomery's Bees, eyeing the Camino Real League championship, meet St. Monica's this afternoon with star fullback Fred Riganti lost for the season.

Riganti suffered an ankle separation on the second place of the game last week, but his team went on to win 26-0.

Sophomore Don Carrasco will step in and fill the vacant single wing slot. Coach Ernie Hernandez' Bees have a 3-0 league record, while Monica's has a 2-1 mark.

If Montgomery pulls this one out, the team will go against Alemany next week for the championship. Both schools are unbeaten to date.

Winter Baseball Leagues Formed In L.A. Area

Men's Winter Baseball League are now being formed in the Southwest Los Angeles area, according to the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation.

The local teams will be matched against each other along with additional community squads participating on a home to home basis. Winners will then be advanced to a county-wide play-off tournament.

"This type of baseball activity will be continued throughout the year," noted Charles Bolinger, head of the County Sports Section. "At the close of winter play, leagues for spring tournaments will be formed."

The year-round men's baseball events are being promoted by the Southern California Men's Athletic Federation and the County Department of Parks and Recreation.

Team managers and squad sponsors may call Jim Hillman at Richmond 7-5511, Ext. 61, or write to the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation, Sports Section, 834 West Olympic Blvd., for more information.

Warriors Hoped For in Homecoming

El Camino Warriors will be shooting to reverse last year's 38-20 loss to San Diego JC and present homecoming Queen Linda Axenty with the team's second win in a row Saturday before an expected full house crowd at Murdock Stadium at 2 p.m.

The unpredictable Warriors, once gunning for a high first division finish before Harbor detoured them a couple of weeks ago, 22-6, hope to improve on their 4-8 series record with the border city Knights.

Head coach Norm Verry rests his main offensive hopes on Quarterback Dave Long, fullback Glen Kezar, halfback Ron Godrich, and wingback Gene Williams.

Williams ranks third in the individual scoring lists, with 42 points.

Saturday's game is the only scheduled daylight affair in the Metropolitan Conference this season, and it could be a good sign, the way the Warriors have played the last two weeks.

Camino will be slight favorites, by three points, if only because of the team's potential.

Last week the Warriors survived a fourth quarter East L. A. rally for a 38-31 victory.

San Diego had earlier beaten the Elans, 50-0, and last week dumped Harbor, 18-6. The Knight have a 4-3 seasonal record and a 2-3 Metro mark. Camino is 3-2 in the conference, and sports an overall 5-2 record.

Knights' Ed Buchanan, John Tomlinson, Clarence Adams, and Kern Carson carry coach George Schuttes' offensive load.

Warriors Hoped For in Homecoming

El Camino College's cross country team has an opportunity to better its position in the Metropolitan Conference standings tomorrow when it hosts unbeaten Bakersfield and wins less Santa Monica.

The triangular meet is scheduled to be run over the 3.2 Alondra Park course. Bakersfield has defeated three teams, lost to none while Camino has a 2-2 standing.

The Warriors defeated Santa Monica last week in a dual meet, 18-41.

Tartars' Joe Montgomery To Play Against 'Gundo

Torrance's Tartars could become South High's greatest ally instead of bitter rival tomorrow night if they succeed in toppling unbeaten and heavily favored El Segundo in a Pioneer League crucial at El Segundo.

A Torrance victory, coupled with a South defeat of Aviation, would break up a five-week stalemate for first place and insure South of at least a tie for the title when the season ends next week.

However, El Segundo, which won last year's game from THS 18-13, is a solid 13 point choice to remain in the unbeaten ranks by annexing its seventh straight win.

Spearheaded by crackerjack All-Pioneer League quarterback Pete Beathard, a 197 pound senior with a gifted throwing arm, El Segundo has lost only one game in two seasons.

Beathard completes "about 75 per cent of everything he throws, 55 according to his coach, Clyde Dougherty.

Although the Eagles are solid favorites, Dougherty and his club aren't taking the Tartars lightly.

"Torrance is a good team, and we'll do everything possible to take this one. Our record looks good in print (6-0), but we're really not an outstanding team," Dougherty related this week.

Good news and high hopes for the Tartars arose when it was learned that halfback Joe Montgomery, who injured his shoulder three weeks ago, will be in uniform and ready to go.

Joe, respected by Dougherty as "the best back in the league," has been taking whirlpool treatments every day and should see considerable duty if the doctor doesn't give out.

The Tartars are confident they can upset El Segundo, and with Montgomery back they just might do it. Along with a bolstered running game, the team's passing attack of quarterback Howard Taylor to end Cliff Weimer should net good results.

'Gundo will have full service of glue fingered end Cliff Phlegenkule. Cliff has played only two plays in the last three games due to an injury. He is Beathard's favorite target and has gathered in four touchdown passes in league play.

Torrance has a 4-2 seasonal record, 2-2 against the league. The Tartars have dropped two of their last three games with Montgomery out of the lineup.

One Tartar lineman boasted "We'll hold 'em scoreless." They may have to, to salvage an otherwise disappointing season.
